

The following code of business conduct and ethics (the “Code”) was adopted by the board of directors (“Board”) of Northwest Healthcare Properties Management Limited as manager (the “Manager”) of Vital Healthcare Property Trust (“Vital”) on 29 June 2023.

The Code extends to all directors, officers, employees and contractors of the Manager, or its related entities (together, the “Northwest Entities”), involved in providing management services to Vital (together, the “NorthWest Personnel”).

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

This Code covers a wide range of business practices and procedures. It does not cover every issue that may arise, but sets out basic principles designed to promote integrity and deter wrongdoing amongst all Northwest Personnel. All Northwest Personnel are required to familiarise themselves with this Code, and must conduct themselves accordingly and seek to avoid even the appearance of improper behavior.

If a law conflicts with a policy in this Code, Northwest Personnel must comply with the law. If a local custom or policy conflicts with this Code, Northwest Personnel must comply with this Code. If you have any questions about these conflicts, you should ask a senior officer of the Manager or NorthWest Healthcare Properties Real Estate Investment Trust (the “REIT”) how to handle the situation. The General Counsel of the REIT and the Regional General Counsel A/NZ are the contact persons for any questions regarding the Code. You can contact the General Counsel of the REIT at Mike.Brady@nwreit.com and/or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ at Vanessa.Flux@nwreit.com.

Northwest Personnel who violate the standards in this Code may be subject to disciplinary action, which may include termination of their employment or other relationship with the Manager, the REIT or any other Northwest Entity, as applicable. If you are in a situation that you believe may violate or lead to a violation of this Code, follow the guidelines described below under “Compliance Procedures”.

1 The Code

a. Compliance with Laws, Rules and Regulations

Obeying the law, both in letter and in spirit, is the foundation on which the Northwest Entities’ ethical standards are built and is critical to our reputation and continued success. All Northwest Personnel must respect and obey the laws of the various jurisdictions in which Vital and the Northwest Entities operate and avoid even the appearance of impropriety. Although not all Northwest Personnel are expected to know the details of these laws, it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice from executive members or other appropriate personnel. The General Counsel of the REIT and/or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ are available to assist Northwest Personnel in determining applicable legal requirements and to seek the advice of legal counsel where appropriate.

b. Conflicts of Interest

Northwest Personnel are required to act with honesty and integrity and to avoid or fully disclose any interest, relationship or activity that may be harmful or detrimental to the best interests of Vital, Vital's unitholders or the REIT, or that may give rise to real, potential or the appearance of a conflict of interest with the interests of Vital, Vital's unitholders or any of the Northwest Entities.

A "conflict of interest" exists when a person's private interests interfere in any way with the interests of Vital, Vital's unitholders or the REIT. A conflict of interest can arise when Northwest Personnel take actions or have interests that may make it difficult for them to perform their work for the Northwest Entities objectively and effectively. Conflicts of interest also may arise when Northwest Personnel or members of their families receive improper personal benefits as a result of their positions with a Northwest Entity, or otherwise have a material interest in an agreement or transaction involving Vital or a Northwest Entity.

Conflicts of interest are prohibited as a matter of policy, except as may be approved as described below. Conflicts of interest may not always be clear-cut. Persons other than directors and executive officers who have questions about a potential conflict of interest or who become aware of an actual or potential conflict should discuss the matter with, and seek a determination and prior authorisation or approval from, the Regional General Counsel A/NZ. Directors and executive officers must seek determinations and prior authorisations or approvals of potential conflicts of interest exclusively from the Board.

c. Confidentiality and inside information

Northwest Personnel must maintain the confidentiality of confidential information entrusted to them by any Northwest Entity and persons with whom Vital or the Northwest Entities do business, except when disclosure is authorised under the Confidential Information Policy or required by laws or regulations. Confidential information includes all non-public information that might be of use to competitors, or harmful to Vital, Vital's unitholders, any Northwest Entity or the person to whom it relates if disclosed. The obligation to preserve the confidentiality of confidential information continues even after Northwest Personnel cease to have a relationship with the Northwest Entities.

Northwest Personnel who have access to confidential information are not permitted to use or share that information for trading purposes or for any other purpose except the conduct of Vital's or the Northwest Entities' business. All Northwest Personnel should read and abide by the REIT's Confidential Information Policy and Disclosure Policy.

All NorthWest Personnel must comply with Vital's Security Trading Policy and the REIT's Insider Trading Policy. Among other things, these policies provide that NorthWest Personnel who have access to material non-public information are not permitted to use or share the information for securities trading purposes. Generally, any NorthWest Personnel in possession of material non-public information are prohibited from discussing that information with anyone outside of the Northwest Entities. Common examples of material information are quarterly or annual financial results, discussions with another company regarding a possible acquisition, merger or divestiture, sudden departure or replacement of a key executive, and proposed changes in capital structure or financing. In addition, all NorthWest Personnel must adhere to Vital's and the REIT's securities trading blackout policy requirements that prohibit securities trading around, for example, the issuance of financial results. For more information, please see Vital's Security Trading Policy and the REIT's Insider Trading Policy, as applicable.

d. Corporate Opportunities

Northwest Personnel are prohibited from taking for themselves personally, or for the benefit of friends or family members or any other person, opportunities that are discovered through the use of corporate property, information or positions without the consent of the Board and from using corporate property, information or positions for improper personal gain (or for the gain of friends, family or any other person). No Northwest Personnel may compete with Vital or any of the Northwest Entities directly or indirectly. Northwest Personnel owe a duty to Vital and each Northwest Entity to advance their respective legitimate interests when the opportunity to do so arises.

e. Protection and Proper Use of Northwest Entity Assets

All Northwest Personnel should endeavor to protect Vital and Northwest Entity assets and ensure their efficient use. Theft, carelessness and waste have a direct impact on the profitability of Vital and the Northwest Entities. Any suspected incident of fraud or theft should be reported immediately to the General Counsel of the REIT and/or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ for investigation.

The obligation of Northwest Personnel to protect the assets of Vital and the assets of the Northwest Entities includes Vital's and the Northwest Entities' proprietary information. Proprietary information includes any information that is not known generally to the public or would be helpful to competitors of Vital or any of the Northwest Entities. Examples of proprietary information include intellectual property (such as trade secrets, patents, trademarks and copyrights), business, marketing and service plans, designs, databases, salary information and any unpublished financial data and reports. Unauthorised use or distribution of this information would violate Vital's and Northwest's policy and could be illegal and result in civil or criminal penalties. The obligation to preserve the confidentiality of proprietary information continues even after Northwest Personnel cease to have a relationship with the Northwest Entities.

Vital assets and Northwest Entity assets may never be used for illegal purposes. Any Northwest Personnel who become aware of or suspect the improper use of any Vital or Northwest Entity assets should bring it to the attention of a supervisor or department head and consult the procedures described below under "Compliance Procedures".

f. Competition and Fair Dealing

The Northwest Entities seek to excel and to outperform any competitors fairly and honestly through superior performance and not through unethical or illegal business practices. Taking proprietary information without the owner's consent, inducing disclosure of that information by past or present employees or other persons or using that information is prohibited. Northwest Personnel should respect the rights of, and deal fairly with, Vital's and the Northwest Entities' competitors, persons with whom Vital or the Northwest Entities have a business relationship, unitholders of Vital and securityholders of the REIT, and employees of the REIT and its subsidiaries. No Northwest Personnel should take unfair advantage of anyone through illegal conduct, manipulation, concealment, abuse of proprietary information, misrepresentation of material facts or any other intentional unfair-dealing practice. Nor should any Northwest Personnel act in a manner that may be anti-competitive under anti-trust laws. The General Counsel of the REIT and/or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ are available to assist Northwest Personnel in determining the application of those laws and to seek the advice of legal counsel where appropriate.

g. Gifts and Entertainment

Business gifts and entertainment are customary courtesies designed to build goodwill and constructive relationships among business partners. These courtesies may include such things as meals and beverages, tickets to sporting or cultural events, discounts not available to the general public, accommodation and other merchandise or services. In some cultures, they play an important role in business relationships. However, a problem may arise when these courtesies compromise, or appear to compromise, a Northwest Entity's ability to make fair and objective business decisions or cause a Northwest Entity or a person with which a Northwest Entity has a business relationship to gain or appear to gain an unfair advantage.

Offering or receiving any gift, gratuity or entertainment that might be perceived to unfairly influence a business relationship should be avoided. These guidelines apply at all times and do not change during traditional gift-giving seasons.

No gift or entertainment should ever be offered, given, provided, authorised or accepted by any Northwest Personnel or their family members unless it is not a cash gift, is consistent with customary business practices, is not excessive in value, cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff and does not violate any laws. Strict rules apply when a Northwest Entity does business with governmental agencies and officials (as discussed in more detail below). Northwest Personnel should discuss with their supervisor or department head any gifts or proposed gifts about which they have any questions.

h. Payments to Government Personnel

All NorthWest Personnel must comply with all laws prohibiting improper payments to domestic and foreign officials, employees of state-owned enterprises and political parties. Some governments have laws regarding business gifts that may be accepted by government personnel. The promise, offer or delivery to an official or employee of various governments of a gift, favour or other gratuity in violation of these laws would not only violate the NorthWest Entities' policies but could also be a criminal offence. Illegal payments should not be made to government officials of any country. Gifts of a significant value to a government official, party official or an employee of a state-owned enterprise are also prohibited.

Before making any expenditure for, or on behalf of, public officials, NorthWest Personnel must contact their regional head for explicit approval. This includes, but is not limited to, expenditures for travel, sponsorships and conferences. If the regional head has any concern about whether the gift or expenditure is allowed under the Code, the matter must be escalated to the REIT's General Counsel or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ.

i. Human Rights in the Workplace

The NorthWest Entities are committed to providing a workplace free of harassment, violence and discrimination. NorthWest Entities are expected to foster a respectful work environment that adheres to the requirements of applicable human rights law and related workplace legislation. The diversity of Northwest Personnel is a tremendous asset. The Northwest Entities are firmly committed to providing equal opportunity in all aspects of employment and will not tolerate any illegal discrimination or harassment of any kind. Examples of such prohibited behavior include derogatory comments based on racial or ethnic characteristics, unwelcome sexual advances, violence and threatening behavior. Northwest Personnel are encouraged to speak with the General Counsel of the REIT and/or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ when a co-worker's conduct makes them uncomfortable and to report discrimination or harassment when it occurs.

j. Health and Safety

The Northwest Entities strive to provide all Northwest Personnel with a safe and healthy work environment. All Northwest Personnel have responsibility for maintaining a safe and healthy workplace by following safety and health rules and practices and reporting accidents, injuries and unsafe equipment, practices or conditions to a supervisor or department head. Being under the influence, and the possession, of illegal drugs in the workplace will not be tolerated. Northwest Personnel should report to work in condition to perform their duties, free from the influence of illegal drugs, alcohol or cannabis.

k. Accuracy of Records and Reporting

The Northwest Entities require honest and accurate recording and reporting of Vital's and the REIT's information to make responsible business decisions. Vital's and the REIT's accounting records are relied upon to produce reports for management, trustees, managers, unitholders / securityholders, governmental agencies and persons with whom Vital or the REIT (and its subsidiaries) do business. All of Vital's and the REIT's financial statements and the books, records and accounts on which they are based must appropriately reflect Vital's and the REIT's activities (as applicable) and conform to applicable legal, accounting and auditing requirements and to the REIT's system of internal controls. Unrecorded or "off the books" funds or assets should not be maintained unless required by applicable law or regulation.

All Northwest Personnel have a responsibility, within the scope of their positions, to ensure that Vital's and the REIT's accounting records do not contain any false or intentionally misleading entries. The REIT does not permit intentional misclassification of transactions as to accounts, departments or accounting records. All transactions must be supported by accurate documentation in reasonable detail and recorded in the proper accounts and in the proper accounting period.

Many Northwest Personnel use business expense accounts, which must be documented and recorded accurately in accordance with Vital's and/or the REIT's policies (as applicable). If Northwest Personnel are not sure whether a certain expense is legitimate, a supervisor or department head can provide advice. General rules and guidelines are available from the Chief Financial Officer of the REIT and/or the Chief Financial Officer A/NZ. Business records and communications often become public through legal or regulatory proceedings or the media. Northwest Personnel should avoid exaggeration, derogatory remarks, guesswork or inappropriate characterisations that can be misunderstood. This requirement applies equally to communications of all kinds, including e-mail, informal notes, internal memos and formal reports.

2 Waivers of the Code

Any waiver of this Code for trustees, directors or officers may be made only by the Board (or a committee of the Board to whom that authority has been delegated) and will be promptly disclosed as required by law or stock exchange regulation. Waivers of this Code for other Northwest Personnel may be made by either the Board, the General Counsel of the REIT or the Regional General Counsel A/NZ.

3 Reporting of Illegal or Unethical Behavior

Each of the Northwest Entities has a strong commitment to the conduct of Vital's business and the Northwest Entity's business in a lawful and ethical manner. Northwest Personnel are encouraged to talk to supervisors, managers or other appropriate personnel about observed illegal or unethical behavior and when in doubt about the best course of action in a particular situation. It is the policy of the Northwest Entities not to allow retaliation for reports of misconduct by others made in good faith. It is, at the same time, unacceptable to file a report knowing that it is false. All Northwest Personnel are expected to cooperate in internal investigations of misconduct.

4 Compliance Procedures

All Northwest Personnel must work to ensure prompt and consistent action against violations of this Code. However, in some situations it is difficult to know right from wrong. Since we cannot anticipate every situation that will arise, it is important that the Northwest Entities have a way to approach a new question or problem. These are the steps to keep in mind:

- ▶ Make sure you have all the facts. In order to reach the right solutions, we must be as fully informed as possible.
- ▶ Ask yourself: What specifically am I being asked to do? Does it seem unethical or improper? This will help you to focus on the specific question you are faced with and the alternatives you have. Use your judgement and common sense - if something seems like it might possibly be unethical or improper, it probably is.
- ▶ Clarify your responsibility and role. In most situations, there is shared responsibility. Are your colleagues informed? It may help to get others involved and discuss the problem.
- ▶ Discuss the problem with your manager. This is the basic guidance for all situations. In many cases, your manager will be more knowledgeable about the question and will appreciate being brought into the decision-making process. Remember that it is your manager's responsibility to help solve problems.
- ▶ Discuss the problem with a Whistleblower Protection Officer. In the rare case where it may not be appropriate to discuss an issue with your manager, or where you do not feel comfortable approaching your manager with your question, discuss it with a Whistleblower Protection Officer or otherwise report your concerns in accordance with Vital's Whistleblower Policy.
- ▶ You may report ethical violations in confidence and without fear of retaliation. If your situation requires that your identity be kept secret or you make a report in accordance with Vital's Whistleblower Policy, your anonymity will be protected to the extent possible, subject to the limited exceptions described in the Whistleblower Policy. The Northwest Entities do not permit retaliation of any kind against employees for good faith reports of ethical violations.
- ▶ Always ask first, act later: If you are unsure of what to do in any situation, seek guidance before you act.
